Red-hot Brewers top sliding Pirates

By JOE TOTORAITIS The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE — Avisail Garcia hit a two-run homer, Christian Yelich added a pinch-hit sacrifice fly on his bobblehead day and the Milwaukee Brewers completed a three-game sweep of the Pittsburgh Pirates with a 5-2 win on Sunday.

Despite getting outhit 10-5, Milwaukee won for the 14th time in 16 games, including seven in a row at home.

'We had opportunities today and left people on base," Pirates manager Derek Shelton said after his team left 10 on base and went 1 for 7 with runners in scoring position. "We left too many guys on

The Pirates have lost seven straight. They were swept in back-to-back series after losing three at home against the Dodgers before heading to Milwaukee. Brent Suter (8-3) picked up the win, getting the final out in the sixth. Brad Ciambotti sees a bright future for his pitcher.

"He's a bulldog," Ciambotti said. "He's a scrappy, hard-nosed dirtbag baseball kid. He always loves to take swings, always thinking about baseball, the next game, the next opponent. He's going to be a great coach someday too.'

The state championship victory marks the end of the road for the lone senior on the team Hollobaugh.

After losing in the state final in football and a regional final in basketball, Hollobaugh got to cap off his career with a championship in one of the two sports he'll be playing at the next level at Walsh University. "It means everything to me because I'm a senior and to go out in my last game I ever get to play at Kennedy and win a state championship, there's no better feeling," Hollobaugh said. "It's surreal. It's just the best feeling in the world. getting a ring. I'm just so excited.

"This has been the best four years of my life. Athletically, academically, it's just been the best. I couldn't have asked for a better school, program, anything.'

Going into Sunday's game, the tight-knit Eagles wanted to get the win not only for themselves, but for the football players on the team who had missed out on lifting the big trophy.

At the start of the season, JFK's basketball success limited the small Kennedy baseball roster even further, as they had to practice with a lineup too small to field a full team.

"Because Kennedy's a small school, they're all very tight," Ciambotti said. "These kids all play different sports with each other, like we had six of the guys play basketball. In February we were practicing with five guys until a week after the basketball season because they went to the regional, so yeah, it makes us a tight-knit group."

Kennedy ends its season at 22-9. "It was an incredible ride," Ciambotti said. "We took it one practice at a time, one game at a time, but we tried to keep the kids focused, looking at the big picture, not the little picture, and it worked out well."

With 10 returning players to next year's team, as well as an incoming class of freshmen, the Eagles hope to be making a few more appearances in Akron over the next few years.

Well we have 10 coming back I'm going out with a win and I'm and obviously we're going to try to do this again," Ciambotti said. "We're trying to build a culture, so we want to do this year in and year out if possible. We bid Cam farewell, but the expectations start for the next group.

Higgo overtakes Hadley to win

The Associated Press

RIDGELAND, S.C.—Garrick Higgo won the Palmetto Championship at Congaree for his first PGA Tour victory Sunday when leader Chesson Hadley blew a two-shot lead with bogeys on his final three holes.

Higgo, the 22-year-old left-hander from South Africa, shot a 3-under 68 and finished at 11 under in his second career tour event. Get ready to see more of him. The victory, along with $1,314,000, gives him PGA Tour status through the 2023 season.

It was a heartbreaking finish for Hadley, seemingly in control at 13 under with three holes to play. But he drove into a waste area on the 16th and could not get up and down after missing the 17th and 18th greens to give away victory.

Hadley finished with a 75 after opening 65-66-68. He fell into a tie for second at 10 under with Hudson the first two rounds, shot a 69. Swafford (66), Doc Redman (67), Jhonattan Vegas (67), Tyrrell Hatton (68) tied for fourth at 12 under.

MLB: Indians demote McKenzie

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Indians hope another trip to the minors helps Triston McKenzie eventually stick in the majors. The Indians optioned McKenzie to Triple-A Columbus for the fourth time this season on Sunday after the right-hander failed to get out of the first inning against Seattle a day earlier.

President of baseball operations Chris Antonetti and manager Terry Francona met with McKenzie on Sunday morning.

"Like any player, we want to make sure we understand what's going through their mind and what's getting in their way of having the results they want," Antonetti said

McKenzie had been called up from Columbus before the game. He issued four walks, including one with the bases loaded, and retired two of the six batters he faced.

McKenzie, who began the season in the rotation, leads the AL with 39 walks. He struck out 10 in 5 1/3 innings against the Chicago White Sox, including a club-record eight in a row, on May 31 but followed that with Saturday's short McKenzie, 23, is 1-3 with a 6.38 ERA in 11 games and has struck out 59 in 42 1/3 innings. He was a first-round selection in the 2015 draft and pitched in eight games for the Indians last season.

The Indians' rotation has struggled behind Shane Bieber and Aaron Civale. Zach Plesac broke his right thumb when he angrily pulled off his shirt after a poor outing last month. He began playing catch last week, but there's no timetable for his return, McKenzie, Logan Allen, J.C. Meija, Sam Hentges, Cal Quantrill and Eli Morgan have been used as starters, but no one has pitched well enough to secure a rotation spot. Meija and Quantrill will start the first two games in Cleveland's upcoming series against Baltimore. The starter for Thursday is undetermined.

Infielder Ernie Clement was called up from Columbus.

NBA: Bucks even series vs. Nets MILWAUKEE — Giannis Antetokounmpo and Khris

Middleton finally are getting a little more help, while Kevin Durant keeps seeing his superstar cohorts get hurt. And now a second-round playoff series that once looked like a Brooklyn Nets runaway suddenly is up for grabs. Antetokounmpo scored 34 points and the Bucks rolled to a 107-96 Game 4 victory on Sunday to tie their series with the Nets, who lost Kyrie Irving to a sprained right ankle. The Bucks erased a 2-0 deficit by winning two straight in Milwaukee. Game 5 is Tuesday night at Brooklyn. Irving got hurt midway through the second quarter and didn't return. The Nets already are missing nine-time All-Star and 2018 MVP James Harden, who hasn't played since the opening minute of Game 1 due to right hamstring tightness. That puts even more pressure on Durant, who has carried the Nets this series and provided 28 points and 13 rebounds Sunday. The only other Net in double figures was Irving, who had 11 points before leaving. SUNS ELIMINATE NUGGETS: DENVER — The Phoenix Suns roared into the Western Conference Finals for the first time in 11 years Sunday night with a testy 125-118 victory over Denver that completed a four-game sweep of the Nuggets and included MVP Nikola Jokic's ejection. Chris Paul scored 37 points and Devin Booker added 34 in a physical game marred by Jokic's ejection. Jokic was tossed with 3:52 left in the third quarter and the Nuggets trailing 83-76 after his hard right-hand windmill swipe sent the basketball flying but also caught Cameron Payne in the face. Booker took umbrage at the hard foul and got in the big man's face before teammates and coaches pulled everyone apart. Officials assessed a double technical on Jokic and Booker and ejected the MVP after upping the call to a Flagrant 2. Jokic finished with 22 points and 11 rebounds in 28 minutes.

Larson captures All-Star race

Kyle Larson was back in the row. NASCAR All-Star race, and got another $1 million by winning it again.

Larson held off a hardcharging Brad Keselowski during the final 10-lap shootout at Texas on Sunday night, after a slippery three-wide pass to get back in front and push Hendrick Motorsports to its second consecutive win, and 10th overall, in the annual nonpoints race with the seven-figure prize.

Defending All-Star winner and reigning Cup champion Chase Elliott, who started the sixth and final segment out front, didn't stay there long. Larson pushed his teammate, then got in front on the outside through the fourth turn. Keselowski pulled ahead briefly at the line before Larson finally got ahead to stay for the
